Wau Bun Village Plan is Approved

Voters Favor Project at Election Last Week; Location West of Winnetka

Only fifteen votes were polled against the proposition to incorporate as a village that section surrounding the new Skokie Valley station on Willow road, west of Winnetka, and to be known as Wau Bun. The proposition carried 63 to 15.

The election was held Saturday, Oct. 23, at the store of Alex Levernier. The next step in process of establishing a new village will be the election of a board of trustees and other officials.

The United Realty company already has subdivided into residence lots the 120 acres lying immediately east of the tracks and north of Willow road, where it also maintains a large real estate office for the sale and further development of its holdings.

Wau Bun, which was formerly known as Northfield, and which the North Shore line recently announced would continue to the name, is now officially established since the election, as a village two miles square. The north boundary is on a line extended, from Tower road or North avenue; the east boundary is near Hibbard road; the south boundary is Winnetka avenue and the west boundary Kotz road.

The judges at the election last Saturday were Alex Levernier, John P. Hays and Mrs. Emma Higgins. The clerks were, Albert Ottone, Albert Gersdorf and Bernard Schildgren.

New Parsonage Nears Completion

The Methodist Parsonage on Church St. is nearing completion. This is a realization of a dream of year's standing, first because it permits of a real home for a resident pastor.

Heretofore the problem has been met by renting apartments when they could be secured, which was seldom.

The new building will afford a permanent home ready for occupancy by pastors assigned to Glenview.

The building is a substantial brick house north of the church with sufficient area between the buildings to permit of a play court or picturesque church lawn.

The erection of the new home has caused considerable interest as it is the first real parsonage, with the exception of the manse in the Park, to be built in this village.

The building has been subscribed to by those interested in the church and their friends and will be ready for occupancy December 1.

E. Lester Stanton is the new pastor assigned by the Rock River conference to Glenview for this year.

Mr. Stanton has been making the acquaintance of Glenview residents by parish calls.

Village Council Meets at the School House

The postponed meeting of the village was held Monday, Nov. 8, at the school hall.

Following the routine business the matter of dredging and straightening of the river came up for consideration.

It has been decided to straighten and dredge the river, the plans, deviating somewhat from the original.

It is planned now to straighten the course between the bridges, making practically an entirely new channel using the district dredged from this new bed to fill up the old channel as far as possible.

The attorney was instructed to begin condemnation proceedings for the securing of the land affected by the improvement.

In this matter of the petition presented the board for a change in zoning classification of the districts west of Waukegan road on Grove St. to permit of the establishment of a bowling alley, Mr. Herman Rau signified his desire for the withdrawal of the petition.

Civic Association Elects Directors

The annual election of three directors, two men and one woman to the board, was held Tuesday, Nov. 9.

The candidates as named by the nominating committee appointed by President Emory Blean were Messrs. Arthur Palmgren, C. A. Bartling, J. W. Westbrook, Otto Lamberg, Henry Leitner and John Hoog; Mesdames Vivian Wille, Alice Ludden and Charlotte Moverly.

Successful candidates were Arthur Palmgren, C. A. Bartling, Mrs. Moverly and Mrs. Ludden both received the same number of votes.

The board of directors at their next regular meeting next Tuesday will ballot on the tied candidates.

Polls were open from 8 to 9 but the number of votes cast was small only 27 of the members of the association were interested enough to come out.

The next meeting will be a regular meeting held the 3rd Tuesday of this month when the new directors will take their seats and elect the officers of the board.

Arthur Palmgren, re-elected as director, has served two years as efficient secretary of the board, during which period the records and reports of the association have been given his closest attention. Mr. Palmgren was appointed as director of the board two years ago following the resignation of Ralph Hoffman. His election by the voting body of the association is a mark of appreciation and confidence in his ability as a real live member of the board and in all probability the office of secretary will again be offered him.

Legion Landscapes Civic Grounds

The local post of the American Legion has taken on a real community service in the landscaping of the Civic Association grounds west of the railroad.

For several years there has been talk of using the grounds for a playground for the children in as much as building plans could not be agreed upon for want of necessary funds.

The grounds committee of the association finally accomplished the end of granting the American Legion the contract to landscape the grounds, and last Sunday found members of that organization busy with shovel and spade.

Trees and bushes up into the hundreds have been planted. These are reported to have been the gift of neighboring nurseries interested in assisting the Civic Association in supplying a public park and playground.

It is planned by next summer to have the grounds supplied with recreational equipment for the use of the children and young people of the community.

Impressive Beauty Marks Wedding of Well Known Couple

Saturday, November 6, to millions of people was nothing more or less than an exceptionally beautiful autumn day but it was the day of days for Miss Anna Loeding, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Loeding of DesPlaines for on that day she became the bride of Mr. Alfred Stobe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stobe of Chicago.

Promptly at 3:30 p. m. the bells of St. John's Lutheran Church of Niles pealed joyfully announcing the arrival of the bridal party at the church where hosts of friends had already gathered to witness the service that would unite the lives of these two popular young people.

Miss Mabel Steil, a school chum of the bride, presided at the organ, playing the bridal march from Loehengrin and Mendelssohn's as processional and recessional marches.

The bridesmaids and groomsmen entered first in line, halting on either side of the aisle to permit the charming maid of honor, Miss Frieda Stobe, to pass through their midst to make way for the beautiful bride, who followed with her father as escort. The bride was an exquisite picture of loveliness with her court train and long full veil falling in graceful folds and ripples as she slowly wended her way to where the handsome bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Martin Miller, awaited her before the altar partly hidden with palms and flowers.

Rev. Louis Beto of Lena, Ill., an uncle of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony, delivering first a brief though impressive sermon. An appropriate close to the ceremony was affected by the Misses Alvina and Frieda Sielaff, of Chicago, who splendidly rendered a vocal duet, "The Lord My Shepherd," and thrilled the assembly with their rich, beautiful voices.

The bride's gown was of heavily beaded georgette over white satin, her veil being most becomingly fashioned in open crown style with a rhinestone head band. Dainty lilies of the valley added the finishing touch and also mingled with the white bride's roses in the shower bouquet she carried.

The maid of honor wore beaded peach georgette and a rhinestone head band. Her bouquet was of stately chrysanthemums.

The three maids, Miss Alvina Beto, Miss Lillie Beto and Miss Alma Loeding were respectively, green, orchid and yellow georgette. Like the maid of honor they also wore rhinestone headbands and carried chrysanthemums.

The groom's attendants were Mr. George Loeding, Mr. Walter Stobe and Mr. Al Paradesi. Church ushers were Clarence Lowe and Henry Dreyer.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents on Oakton and Lee Streets, DesPlaines, followed and about 175 guests attended. For those who cared to, dancing had been prepared for and Albert Ahrens and Herman Kenning with Saxophone and Concertina kept the things going until next day. The gorgeous array of wedding gifts showed the love and respect held for the bride and groom. They will make their new home at 4123 W. North Ave., Chicago, and we hasten to add our best wishes for a long and prosperous life for Mr. and Mrs. Stobe.

Change Names of Two R. R. stations

Titles of Skokie Valley Branch at Winnetka and Lake Forest Altered

As a co-operative measure, in accordance with the suggestions of neighboring communities, the North Shore Line has changed the names of two of its new stations on the Skokie Valley route.

The stations which the changes affect and which were originally named in the $1,000 prize contest of the North Shore Line last year, are the Skokie Manor station, which is now known as Deerpath, and the Wau-bun station, which is changed to Northfield.

Deerpath station is located on Deerpath avenue, west of Lake Forest. Northfield station is situated at Willow road, adjoining Winnetka, in Northfield township. The new names are considered better suited for the convenience of the traveling public, inasmuch as they can be immediately located by their proximity to these long established communities and well-known thoroughfares.

Margaret Lees and S. P. Busscher Wed

Miss Margaret Lees and Mr. George P. Busscher were married in St. Peter's Catholic church, Niles Center, Thursday morning.

Many relatives and friends were present to witness the impressive ceremony and view the beautiful bride and her lovely maids. The bride was gown in white carrying a lily of the valley bouquet. Her veil was wafted along over the light cloth covering the carpet leading from the door to the altar rail. The maids wore velvet and lace gowns two in light and two in dark autumn leaf colors, carrying bouquets of chrysanthemums and pompons of the same color scheme. Their hats were of golden tint. As the wedding party stood at the beginning of the ceremony the sun was shining upon them through the stained windows and this light made the scene even more beautiful and effective with the beautiful maids facing the stately groomsmen and the bridal couple kneeling while three priests beyond were carrying thru the ceremony with five altar boys assisting. At the conclusion of the ceremony the smiling party passed down the aisle to the hall entry and there the couple beaming with happy smiles received congratulations. MT. PROSPECT

Watch It Grow
F. L. H. LUEDERS, Editor

Rev. Elsfelt, father of Mrs. Herman Noll, will preach in the Des Plaines Lutheran Church Sunday morning.

The A. L. will give a bunco party in the basement of St. Paul's church Tuesday, Nov. 16. Special tables for children.

Prospect Park subdivision No. 1 is paved, Milburn Bros., have completed the paving of this subdivision and done a very good job, this paving is something our village can be proud of.

Tuesday's wintry blast and snow remind us that Thanksgiving day is drawing near and we had better think of all that we had to be thankful for truly our village has plenty to think of this year.

We have a new organization in town, no boys and girls of our village have a charter for a T. T. T. club fostered by the Chicago Daily News Radio Station WMAQ and each night at 5:15 you will see this club gathered at a Radio set listening to the T. T. T. program. With many improvements in our business section in view let all our citizens adopt the slogan of trade in Mt. Prospect and be a benefactor, as the more we deal with our local merchants the better we know them and the more they can do for us in giving us bargains. We hope you have not forgotten the fact that our holiday season is drawing near every merchant is already completing his plans and it looks as though we are in for a big holiday business. Let's show how big our village really is.

The Chamber of Commerce may have some big thing up their sleeve to spring soon, but we will be patient and let you in on the news when it is fully developed.

Mt. Prospect has no auditorium at present but from Dame Rumor information has leaked out that we will have one in the not far distant future. We have not learned the location of this new building as yet, but hope to know more about it real soon.

A music school is about to be opened in Ed. Busse's building by Theodore Petersen of Chicago a well known violin soloist, an announcement of the days and hours that Mr. Petersen will be in Mt. Prospect will be made. From information we have received he is regarded as a very capable teacher of music.

Has it ever occurred to you that our village is a real place to live and have you watched it grow? It can be said that we are growing by leaps and steady leaps, with all the new homes that have been erected this year we can be proud of our village and its progress. This is really due to the foresight of our village trustees and the village president who guard every move that is made so as to protect the village in every respect, could you want a more ideal location for your home, if you are satisfied then do your duty, boost your village all the time, and every place you go. It is to your benefit, if you have trouble get to the source and have it fixed but do not tell the world about it, go to the real source and it will be taken care of and you will be satisfied, everyone living in a village is part of that village and if you knock it you knock yourself, therefore boost, walk and talk your home town place you live is the best place on earth, that makes for progress and that is why we have the slogan "The City of Progress" act it, live it, and be it.

Prospect Post No. 1337 V. F. W. had a wonderful success of their trap shoot last Sunday. The local boys are some real marksmen and the way the birds went it is hard to tell who really is the "champion" the only way this can be settled would be by a shooting match, that is not what was intended for this space but we do want to say when something is put over big in our village you can figure the V. F. W. boys are in it, their hand can be noticed in every big going in town. Let's hope they put on some more stunts real soon.

The sharp shooters are out practically every hunter started out Wednesday a. m. which was the legal opening of the hunting season for pheasants, but some did not want and some are not real sportsman that we noticed however the hunters that live in the district should be mentioned for their real sportsmanship, everyone giving the bird the break and shooting while they are on the wing and not when in a nest, like some of the city fellows do. If you are a hunter be a sport and play the game fair, then you will have enjoyment and pleasure galore.

The A. L. L. ladies will give a bunco party Tuesday evening Nov. 16 at 8 p. m. they will provide special tables for the children. Everybody is welcome as the party will be given in the lower hall under the church.

NILES PUBLIC SCHOOL
Mrs. Phillips, our new music teacher is doing fine work with all grades. We feel her influence in our singing already.

The upper grades are learning the song, "Come to the Fair." by Martin.

Our Halloween party was a decided success. The children of each room prepared their own party. The refreshments were furnished by the Achievement club.

Much credit is due our achievement club entertainment committee consisting of Frieda Zannier, Ella Patek and Ruth Wagner for making the party a success.

Our story of wool is completed and is placed in a position in school so that it may be studied by all.

Sudden Death Reported of Neighbor Hodgkins

The funeral of Mr. S. C. Hodgkins, who died, Nov. 6th, was held Wednesday morning at his late residence. Rev. Kossack, pastor of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church officiated. The remains were taken by auto to Harvard, Ill., where interment was made.

Obituary

Scott Carlton Hodgkins was born in Rochester, Vermont, Dec. 25, 1858. He is of a family of five children, three brothers and one sister. His brother Henry of Chicago and sister Clara of Rochester, Vermont, survive.

In 1881 he moved to Harvard, locating with his brother Henry. He was married in 1885 to Mary Elizabeth Thompson.

Carlton the only child was born in 1886 living to the age of 18 1/2 years.

In 1888 he went into the flour, oil and express business, moving to Dixon, Ill., in 1901 entering his son in business college. While here his business was selling oils and gas. At the end of 3 years his son died and he sold out and moved to Chicago taking a position with the Fairbanks Soap Co. After his wife's mother's tragic death he came to live in Arlington Heights, where he has lived for the past 18 years. He was in the automobile Tire and Accessories business on Milwaukee avenue for 8 years.

At the time of his death he was salesman as representative for the Superior Oil Burner Co., of Chicago.

To walk together for years in sunshine and in storm; in joy and sorrow; through the pride of gain, and in the shadow of a great loss, then suddenly as the going out of the light, one passes into the unknown country and one is left, stunned and helpless alone. So passed our neighbor, S. C. Hodgkins and so—stunned by her loss and alone sits his life companion, Mrs. Hodgkins.

It is over eighteen years we have known Mr. and Mrs. Hodgkins. The death of their only son, Carlton when just a bright lad in school, was a cruel blow to the loving parents; then the tragic accident in which Mrs. Hodgkins lost her mother seemed almost too much for the frail already grief worn daughter to bear. And now this sudden shock of her husband's going is another crushing blow.

Mr. Hodgkins was an energetic active man, who though some times down would not stay down, and always kept alive and doing his best. There was no whining and no give up in Scott Hodgkins. To our dear friend, Mrs. Hodgkins, there are no words fine and strong enough to express to her the sincere sympathy we feel.

Alone without a guiding hand Along life's tangled way, Too weary weak, alone to stand Too weary weak to pray.

Losses together they have known Now one must meet life's stress alone When part of self has gone.

Whether mistaken, or in right He never gave up beat— He saw as he was given light And bravely bore defeat.

Courage and purpose were his bent He did the best he knew Along the troubled way he went What more could mortal do?

Card of Thanks

I deeply appreciate and gratefully acknowledge the kind expressions of sympathy from my many friends in my late bereavement through the loss of my beloved husband.

Mrs. S. C. Hodgkins.

Dr. Best Speaks at Mother's Club

Martin Wolff Shot by Companion Hunter

Martin Wolf, brother of Henry Wolf of Elmhurst and of the late Mrs. Mary Lang of Bensenville, was badly injured Wednesday. He was out hunting with a friend, in the vicinity of Fort Atkinson, Wis. In some manner the friend who was walking about four feet behind stumbled and in clutching the gun pressed the trigger. The charge struck Mr. Wolf in the right ankle. Realizing the seriousness of the accident they bound the leg as well as they could and rushed to the hospital at Fort Atkinson where it was found necessary to amputate the foot about four inches above the ankle. His brother Henry and cousin Fred Sprandel spent Thursday with Mr. Wolf and report him in fairly good condition although suffering considerable pain.

The accident is the more deplorable owing to the fact that the man who discharged the gun is a close friend of the family and a chum of Martin.

Bensenville Dept.

Mr. Henry Krumwiede of Bensenville and Miss Paula Reitz of Maywood were quietly married at the home of Rev. Wagner Sunday. Only close relatives of the young couple were present. We join in wishing them a long and happy life.

Speaking of "Safety First" and other subjects of interest, it surely pays to alight from the right side of a passenger train especially where double track is in use. Recently a couple of Bensenville ladies, whose husbands are employees of the railroad and interested in safety first, returned from an afternoon spent in Chicago at a club meeting, unwittingly stepped off the left side at Bensenville and while there was no train occupying the opposite track, the husband of one of the ladies was on the right side with the auto waiting to take the ladies home. After seeing all the passengers alight on the platform, and never giving it a thought that two wives of railroad employees, would step off on the double track side, he supposed they had missed their train and immediately stepped on the gas and hurried home leaving his wife and her friend standing on the railroad track on the opposite side of the train. Oh, yes they had to walk home and are assured by both ladies that they learned a lesson which they will not soon forget. While the fact that no fast train was passing on the opposite track saved them a ride in a hearse, getting off on the wrong side also bent them out of a ride home.

Chas. Earhart is walking around on crutches on account of a badly injured ankle which he received while playing football.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland returned from their visit in Canada and while they were not interested enough in "Canadian Club" to ship any back home with them Mrs. S. did bring back a severe cold which kept her at home several days. Friends of Martin Wolf of Janesville, were shocked recently to learn that he had a close call while out hunting with a friend with whom he goes hunting every year.

While following a trail in the woods near Ft. Atkinson, Wis. Mr. Wolf was walking ahead while his friend was following close behind carrying a gun. By an accidental step the shot gun of the rear hunter was discharged, the charge entering Mr. Wolf's leg just above the ankle. His friend was so excited over the accident that he was helpless to assist so Mr. Wolf administered first aid by bandaging up his own injured limb and a three hour trip to the Ft. Atkinson hospital begun. Notwithstanding the fact that the limb had been well bound Mr. Wolf suffered the loss of much blood and was in a very weak condition when he arrived at the hospital. It was found necessary to amputate the limb about four inches above the ankle. Relatives at Bensenville where Mr. Wolf was raised, were notified at once and Fred Sprandel hurried to the side of his unfortunate relative. Mr. Sprandel visited him again Friday and brought back the good news that Martin was recovering fairly well. He is still at the hospital but will soon be able to be removed to his home in Janesville, where his two daughters aged 8 and 10 reside with his sister. Mr. Wolf having lost his wife about two years ago.

Jas. O'Keefe, Don Smethurst and Billie Koebmann returned Wednesday evening from the famous "Kickapoo Valley" in Wisconsin. While the other boys were born and raised on the "Kickapoo" to Mr. Koebmann it was a great treat as he stated on his return. "Why should people go to Europe sight seeing with such wonderful scenery within a day's drive of Chicago?" The heavy rains this fall caused so much high water that the boys did not see many ducks along the route; but they had a wonderful time just the same.

York street from the railroad track to Irving Park boulevard was officially opened Saturday and the entire street will be opened by the time this issue of the Register comes out. This is the first step toward turning this village into a city beautiful. Laborers have been busy several days leveling the sides of the new drive way and it only remains now for property owners to see that the ground between the street and their side walks is made beautiful this coming spring. This should be a beautiful drive and one that will give tourists an idea of what our entire city will be in a short time, as other streets are paved.

The C. M. & St. P. Woman's club will give their annual dance in social hall Saturday, Dec. 4. To those who have attended one of these club dances we have only to mention the date and place to assure us that they will be there and to those who have not attended, before we can only say watch for the posters that will soon be out, then obtain your tickets and don't miss that dance.

The C. W. C. Bunco party, Nov. 4 drew a good crowd and all enjoyed a pleasant evening. Twenty prizes given to those making highest scores. Afterwards a nice lunch of cake and coffee was served in the basement dining room.

Did you read last week's Register, if not, why not? Did the editor forget to mail you your copy or did you forget to subscribe for it? In either case make the reason known and see that from now on you get every copy. Watch the Bensenville advertisements and see the opportunities they are offering you to save money and time, for we believe in a short time every live business man in Bensenville will give our readers something every week that it will be to their interest to read over. Publicity will boost a town or a business just the same, and the home paper is the place to find what you are looking for.

Brakeman Toland has rented the new house recently completed corner of Rose street and Pine ave. Mrs. Kenneth Leahr underwent a successful operation at Elmhurst hospital Nov. 4. Latest reports are that the patient is doing nicely.

Members of the Bensenville bank attended the opening of the Itasca bank Saturday and upon their return had only but words of praise for the new business place of our neighboring town. Another bank denotes prosperity and we expect to see both banks soliciting business through their weekly ads in the Register.

George Vogli made a trip to Michigan where he conferred with relatives in making arrangements to keep his four little girls together. He returned Sunday and advises that he expects to make these arrangements.

Division Supt. W. F. Ingraham of Mason City Iowa dropped into Bensenville in his big Cadillac car Sunday night and stopped at the Bodenburger home, Monday after shaking hands with his many friends here, accompanied by Mr. Bodenburger and Mr. Geo. Franzen he drove to Elgin on business. People sure enjoyed shaking hands with our old friend even if he did only stay over night.

Harry Geils will move into his new home about Nov. 20, and the butcher who is employed by Mr. Sprandel will occupy the house vacated by Mr. Geils.

Two more basements have been dug in the Center street district.

Sure it is growing and the new high school will soon be surrounded by beautiful new homes. Those who wish to buy a home that will increase in value faster than diamonds will do well to investigate Bensenville before even looking anywhere else.

Mr. George Warneka is now occupying the post office as official post master having been temporarily appointed. Aided by his wife, they are fast getting onto the ropes, and we hope to see George get the permanent appointment so they may go ahead and make arrangements for the future. For the time being the office remains in the Elfin building where it has been many years, but as the building is for sale Uncle Samuel may have to look for a different house.

Know any news of interest? Sure you do, why not let us make the Register more interesting, peppy and eight full pages of Bensenville locals, editorials and Bensenville advertisements? It can be done it should be done and if all do our best to boost the idea it will be done.

Among the visitors in town Sunday were two families which brought together four generations. They were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Peterson of Center St. The great grand mothers were Mrs. Hinsley of Bratford, Can., and Mrs. Brooks of Hampshire, Ill. The grand parents were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hinsley while the two younger generations were Mr. and Mrs. H. Fisher and baby Freddie of Chicago. A good time was enjoyed by all and some photos of the four generations were taken which will be prized very highly by little Freddie in years to come.

Clarence Waldron was called to Minneapolis first of the week to attend the funeral of his aunt.

On account of the bad weather Monday evening the regular meeting of the Bensenville Booster club was postponed until Monday, Nov. 15, to be held at the village hall at 8 p. m. Questions of great importance will come up for consideration among them the community Christmas tree. It will be remembered that last year Bensenville had a beautiful tree placed on the village lot near the village hall and that several hundred people met Santa Claus and received the fruits and candies the Old Man brought all the way from the frozen north. Many a child was made happy that evening and we believe it is the opinion of all citizens of Bensenville that we should make arrangements for another big evening this year. If you are interested in this or any other question of interest to the people of Bensenville and community drop into the meeting Monday evening and assist in the good work.

New Boulevard at high Level to Be Urged

Quick action on the Chicago plan commission proposal to build a new high speed elevated boulevard from the loop to the northwest city limits is urged.

To Raise Avondale Avenue. Tentative plans call for the elevation of Avondale avenue, a straight diagonal thoroughfare paralleling the Chicago and Northwestern tracks. It would link with Whacker drive at one end and the northwest county highways at the other.

The advantages of an elevated street are obvious. Mr. Taylor said, "It would eliminate stop and go signals and permit fast driving for miles. It has been proved that a nonstop drive of this kind will carry seven times the capacity of ordinary streets."

Cheaper than Widening. "It would also be cheaper than widening, as it would not be necessary to take property from either side. It may be that the Chicago and Northwestern would be willing to pay part of the filling, in cost in order to gain more trackage space. The new tracks and roadway could be built on the same elevation with one retaining wall."

Residents of the northwest side have sought a through route to the loop for years, but gained little headway until it was endorsed by the plan commission. At present they are compelled to drive south to Washington or Jackson boulevards or east to Sheridan road, to reach the downtown district, whereas a diagonal boulevard it is said, would cut the traveling time in half.

GAME — FISH NEWS

Hundreds of Illinois hunters are enjoying duck hunting in the flooded levee districts along the Illinois river for the first time in many years.

The recent disastrous floods that broke almost every levee along the Illinois and many of those along the other rivers of the State have brought a return of the "old days" when the duck hunter was compelled to hunt as well as shoot.

Now with deep water covering most of the "feed pens" the ducks, and they are thick, are scattering all over all the flooded cornfields. The best shooting reported so far is in these cornfields or millet or buckwheat fields. A dozen wooden decoys, a couple of live hen callers and one drake are all that the hunter needs to get some real shooting.

Permission to shoot must first be obtained from the owner or tenant of the land. Then fix a blind of cornstalks so that the boat may be rowed in or out of it. Don't make the blind too heavy or too large. Put the wooden decoys in open water about twenty yards from the blind with one live hen at either end of the bunch of blocks. Tie the drake near the blind where he can hear but not see the hens.

Decoys should always be set somewhat up-wind from the blind, but so located that incoming ducks will not fly directly over the blind. Almost invariably ducks will decoy against the wind and this method of placing the decoys will bring the birds directly in front of the hunter just before they light upon the water.

Sportsmen from all sections of the state are enthusiastically advocating a plan by which the state will buy up large areas of this land and make game and fish refuges and public shooting and fishing grounds. It is believed by many experts that this will help solve the flood problem. The expenses can be paid by hunting and fishing license money without increase in direct taxes.

William J. Stratton, director of the State Department of Conservation, in a statement here today urged duck hunters to read the game laws and observe all regulations strictly.

Shooting before sunrise or after sunset is prohibited. Shooting from a motorboat is also unlawful. If an outboard motor is used the hunter must disconnect it and lay it inside the boat before shooting any kind of waterfowl. State regulations do not require this but the Federal wardens have made several arrests where the motor was merely tilted out of the water and tied, so it is best to take it off and play safe.

Lumber That's Fit

That is the kind of lumber we would rather sell.

We always specify whether we will furnish you with a No. 1 Yellow Pine or a No. 2, not merely "Yellow Pine."

There are three grades of Yellow Pine commonly used, No. 1, No. 2 and a mixed grade of No. 2 and Better.

We can give you any of the three grades, but why use a low grade stock when building a home in which you expect to live your life, why not use a No. 1 stock and feel that if the wind does blow while you are asleep that the roof is not going to divorce itself from the rest of the house?

In the average house the additional cost will be less than $100.00 and that will be saved in the cost of replacing the poor stock you purchased at the beginning.

On Friday, Retta Ree Hipsley brought us a hoot owl, which has been sent to the taxidermist. Martin Landwehr brought a lizard, but during the second night of its stay at school, it disappeared.

The children are anxiously awaiting the return of our squirrel which we sent in two weeks ago.

When our squirrel and owl are back, we will have eighteen mounted specimens, besides our grasshoppers, spiders, butterflies, beetles, snakes, frog and flies. This exhibit is fast out growing its present location in our book case.

The Parent-Teacher Association has voted to buy a regular museum case for the exhibit to be placed in the lower hall.

Appointments of Egolf and Savage Officially Announced by N. Shore

Appointment of John F. Egolf, as general manager, and Howard F. Savage, as assistant general manager, of the Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee Railroad Company is officially announced by the North Shore Line.

This follows the recent appointment of Jesse S. Hyatt, former general manager, as chief engineering assistant to Bernard J. Fallon, Vice President in charge of operation of the four electrically operated railroads in the Chicago Metropolitan area, and of Bert W. Arnold, former assistant to Mr. Fallon with supervision over motor coach operations of the railroads.

Mr. Egolf, who is one of the best known electric railroad men in the country, began his career in 1902 as a conductor on the street railways in Columbus, O. He rose rapidly from the ranks and soon was holding the position of assistant superintendent of the Ohio Electric Railway Company, with headquarters in Springfield and Newark. In 1914 he became manager of the Springfield and Xenia (Ohio) Railways, with headquarters in Springfield. After serving in this capacity for four years, he became manager of the Interurban Railway and Terminal Company, Cincinnati, Ohio. He served as general manager of the Aurora, Elgin and Fox River Electric Company from 1922 to August 1926, when he was appointed assistant to Bernard J. Fallon, vice-president in charge of operation of the four electrically operated railroads serving the Chicago Metropolitan area.

Mr. Savage, who has been serving the Chicago Rapid Transit

Eighth Grade

Our Achievement meeting has been postponed from the 12th to the 19th of November. The Primary grades are going to take part in a group of songs and the upper grades are to give the cantata "Hiawatha". Mr. Aken will be present and will bring with him Mr. La Mere, an Indian Chief, who will lecture on Indian life. This talk will precede the cantata "Hiawatha". The officers of the Achievement club will conduct an open meeting in Parliamentary Practice. We cordially invite all parents and patrons to be present. The boys are playing a good game of Soccer ball and we have two teams on the field every day. We hope to arrange some games with outside schools.

Report cards for the second month have been handed out.

Mr. Boyce has placed Bristol board in a number of the rooms and papers are put on display in this section.

In a fire drill held recently, the time was one minute, fifteen seconds. This is a little behind our best record of last year, which was one minute.

Methodist Church Notes

The Sunday school attendance continued its climb Sunday with 69 present. The special programs by the different classes are taking like "hot cakes" and we are having happy times together. The boys did themselves proud Sunday. Who is next?

The announcement was given out Sunday that the annual Thanksgiving offering was to go to the Halsted St. Mission. That is a mistake. It is for the Italian Mission. Food, canned or fresh, money, or clothes are solicited. God has been good to us. This is one way we can show our Thanksgiving to Him. Bring gifts Nov. 21, Sunday either morning or, preferably in the evening, when the pageant is presented. What pageant? Wait and see, but don't miss it.

Sunday morning, Nov. 21, we will begin to have children's sermons. Children who cannot stay for the whole morning service of worship will have an opportunity to leave the church during the hymn just before the regular sermon. We hope that the parents will help us to have a large group of children present for the first part of the service of worship includes the little sermon especially for them.

Company as General Superintendent Maintenance of Way, is an internationally known figure, having only a few days ago been elected National Commander of the American in Philadelphia. He entered the electric railway industry in 1913 as a track foreman on the Metropolitan West Side Elevated Railroad, later being promoted to track engineer of the "L" line and then to the position which he held at the time of his new appointment.

During the World War, Mr. Savage secured a leave of absence and obtained a commission in the 55th Engineers, serving in France from July, 1918 until July, 1919. On his return to civil life, he resumed his position with the Rapid Transit Lines, in accordance with the policy of all utilities under the management of Samuel Insull and associates, that every one who was in government service should be restored to his former position or a better one.

Jazz Rajah Plans to Burn up the Town With His Melodies

A jazz show so "hot" that Paul Ash and his entire gang expect to wear asbestos lined clothes in it, is promised by the Rajah of Jazz as his next offering at the Oriental theatre.

"We're going to call it 'Paul Ash's Red Hot Revue' and we're going to make it hotter than its sounds," is the way Louis McDermott starts off. Louie is the creative genius who, although unseen in any of the shows, shares the glory of the Ash successes with his jazz chieftain.

"We're bringing Johnnie Perkins back as a special attraction—and you know he's big enough to be three stars, all by himself. Milton Watson will be there, of course, and we're going to hold over the Handsome Harmony Four. We have some other surprises, too, but I can't tell you about them because it would spoil your fun."

Rex Ingraham, director who filmed "The Four Horsemen," "Scaramouch" and "Mare Nostrum," offers another sensational picture on the Oriental screen next week, with the new Ash show.

It will be "The Magician," starring the beautiful Alice Terry, and introducing two distinguished European screen stars to America. The new screen stars are Paul Wegener, who was in "Passion," and Ivan Petrovitch, a handsome young Russian who bears a striking resemblance to Ricardo Cortez, and is a splendid actor.

"The Magician" is a story which has a modern plot, laid in Europe. Mr. Wegener plays the role of the master of sleight, who hopes to discover the secret of artificial life. To carry out his plan, the murder of Alice Terry is required, and he obtains control of her through his hypnotic power. A thrilling mystery story is then unfolded, with many exciting moments of suspense and action.

Cupid Ensnared Two

Paul Ash Stage stars

Announcement was made today of the engagement of Miss Maurine Marseilles, young dancing star of the Paul Ash shows at the Oriental theatre to Louis McDermott, producer of the Ash vehicles.

It was McDermott who discovered Miss Marseilles' dancing ability, and gave her the chance to appear on the stage with Mr. Ash. That was a year ago, and since that time, Miss Marseilles has become one of the brightest of all of Chicago's stage luminaries.

Sills Risks Life Making New Film

Thrills of the sort you see once in a lifetime are in store for motion picture patrons in "Men of Steel," First National's big steel photoplay, which comes Sunday to the Northshore Theatre, with Milton Sills in the starring role and Doris Kenyon as the featured feminine player.

Sills has always been known as a "he-man." In past pictures he has been called upon to perform some difficult feats, but in "Men of Steel" he surpasses anything he has ever done on the screen both in scenes calling for strength and courage and in acting.

Sills would not allow a double take his place. It was his picture and he took the chances. This is just one of many thrills that fill this picture from start to finish and place it far above the ordinary "special." George Archibald directed the picture.

Lydia de Putti Called New Screen Wonder

Twenty-five years ago, in Budapest, the start was made for what was to develop into a national sensation in 1926.

Lydia de Putti was born! Today, no more unique personality can be named in motion pictures. One sensation that followed twenty-five years after her birth was her appearance in "The Prince of Temples," in which she is featured with Ben Lyon, Lois Moran, and Mary Brian, coming Monday to the Chicago theatre.

Miss de Putti is a slight girl, just over five feet in height, and weighing about 103 pounds. She has extraordinary black bobbed hair, and flashing brown eyes that appear, sometimes, to be black.

As a little girl, Lydia de Putti studied dancing and eventually joined the ballet of the Winter Garden in Berlin, where her talent won her recognition and promotion to premier danseuse.

De Putti made her bow to this country in "Variety," and now is appearing in the big special production, "The Prince of Temples."

"Subway Sadie" Comes to the Uptown Theatre

A Subway Fashion show, might have been the name of the feature which comes to the Uptown for one week beginning next Monday. However, the name the producers gave the production, that of "Subway Sadie," is just as appropriate and certainly shorter and snappier.

Dorothy Mackail is the Sadie with the underground subterfuge. Had she been portraying the role of a model in a fashionable clothes establishment instead of a daily patron of New York's underground transit system, she would not have dressed in bett restyle. Add this to the fact that she is seen in one of the best roles she has ever portrayed and you have the reason why Dorothy is heading to stardom as a result of this production.

The picture tells the story of a New York working girl with a Paris complex: "I'll never marry unless my husband can take me to Paris," says Sadie, and then she falls in love with a subway employee is a classic.

Bennie Krueger and his orchestra in another big jazz jamboree in which he will be assisted by a large cast of comedians, dancers, singers and funsters, and the John Murray Anderson Public Unit "The Giant Piano," with the famous painting, "The Angels" for a background, will complete the third unit of this triple feature bill.

"The Vagabond King" Continues Popularity

"The Vagabond King" based on McCarthy's "If I were King," is classed by all of the critics and the general theatre going public as the greatest and most successful musical play in Chicago. The Great Northern theatre which has housed so many musical successes has never had more enthusiastic audiences and never one which has done so well financially. It also has the record of repeaters as there are many who have, during its stay here, seen it ten and twelve times. The delightful score of Rudolf Friml's, with the never to be forgotten and stirring "Song of the Vagabonds" and the melodious duet "Only a Rose," is on everyone's lips. As one strolls along the street the Victor and Cameo records can be heard from practically every music store.

The hotels say that the first play asked for from the out of town guests, is "The Vagabond King." Tickets are at a premium and must be purchased weeks in advance.

The tribulations that Russell Janney went through in getting it produced are nearly as dramatic as the play itself. Every indication is that the Chicago company will remain here a year or more.

The splendid cast with Dennis King as Francois Villon, Berna Deane as Katherine de Vaucelle, Arthur Deagon as Guy Tabarie, George Probert as Louis Xth; Frances Halliday as Huguette; Al-eta Edwards as Lady Mary and the most remarkable chorus of 150 ever assembled, and the symphony orchestra of 30, bring about a never-to-be-forgotten evening in the theatre.

Scientific facts every home owner must face!

Tests show that the usual building materials when used alone offer inadequate protection against cold and heat. Lining your attic with Celotex will make your home more comfortable. It will save in fuel money more than it costs.

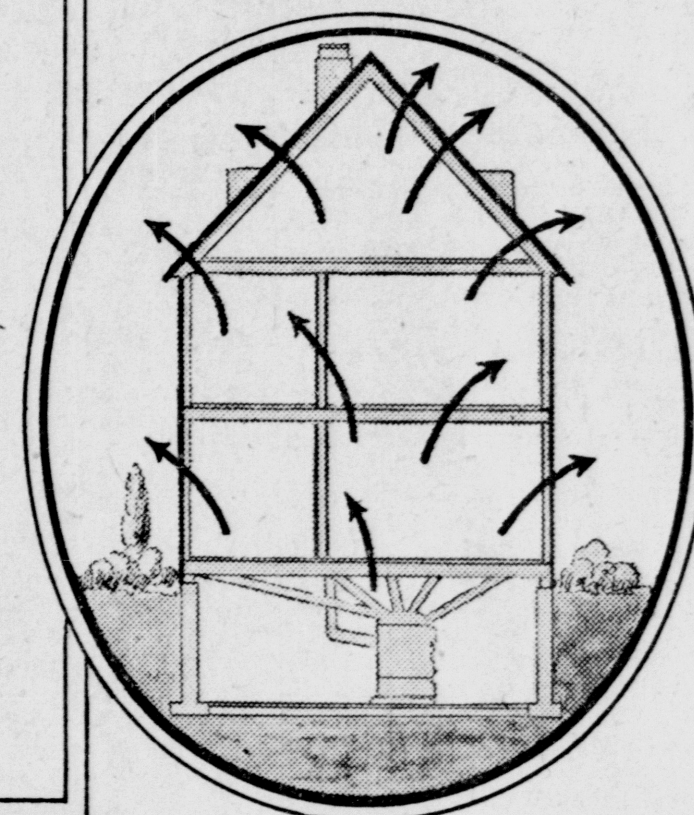

Relative heat-stopping values of building materials

These cross-sections show why Celotex is needed as insulation, in addition to the usual building materials.

This data is compiled from tests published by the American Society of Refrigerating Engineers and other recognized authorities.

Because furnace-heated air naturally rises, the greatest amount of the avoidable heat-leakage occurs through the roof.

Notice how quickly snow melts on the roofs of most houses. Furnace heat, leaking through the roofs, melts it. Note how snow remains on the roof of the insulated house.

NO home is modern today that does not shut out winter's cold and summer's heat... that is wasteful of fuel!

Solid construction is not enough. The usual building materials such as wood, brick, plaster, wall-boards, shingles and roofing materials, alone, offer too little resistance to the passage of heat and cold. Scientific tests prove it.

And careful experiments in hundreds of homes show that there is an avoidable heat loss of from 25% to 35% right through solid walls and roofs of homes built with only these materials.

A special heat-stopping, or insulating, material is needed. And such a material is available for every home, new or old, right now.

This material is Celotex, the amazing lumber that stops the passage of heat and cold... shuts out wind and moisture... quiets noise. Celotex is not cut from trees, but is manufactured from the tough fibres of cane. The broad Celotex boards are stronger in walls than wood lumber.

Already more than 90,000 new homes built with Celotex have set a new American building standard. For these homes are winter-warm, summer-cool, quiet, strong and about 1/3 more economical to heat.

LINE YOUR ATTIC with Celotex. Thousands more who built before Celotex was available are now making their old homes modern by lining their attics with this amazing lumber.

While attic insulation cannot effect the same results as complete house insulation, it gives protection where it is most needed. The roof is the most exposed, yet the thinnest and least protected part of your house. Also, because heated air rises, the greatest amount of the avoidable heat-leakage is through the roof in winter. And in summer, such a roof is poor protection against the sun's attack.

SAVES MORE than it costs. Lining your attic with Celotex is not a big job or an expensive job. You simply nail the broad, light boards right to the studing and rafters. Enough Celotex to line your attic will cost you very little. And Celotex will more than pay for its cost in the fuel money it saves.

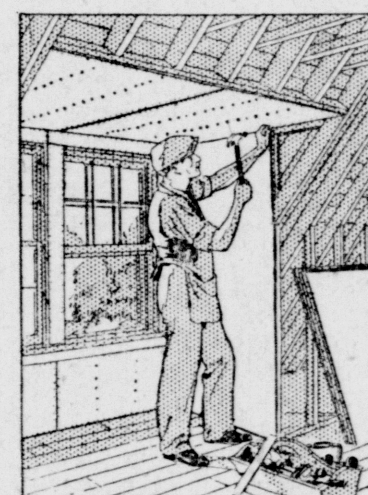

Celotex also converts your old attic into a comfortable, livable room. Its golden-tan color and rough-textured surface make an attractive wall finish... or you can decorate it in many ways.

There are also many other places where Celotex is the ideal material for re-decorating, repairing or re-modeling.

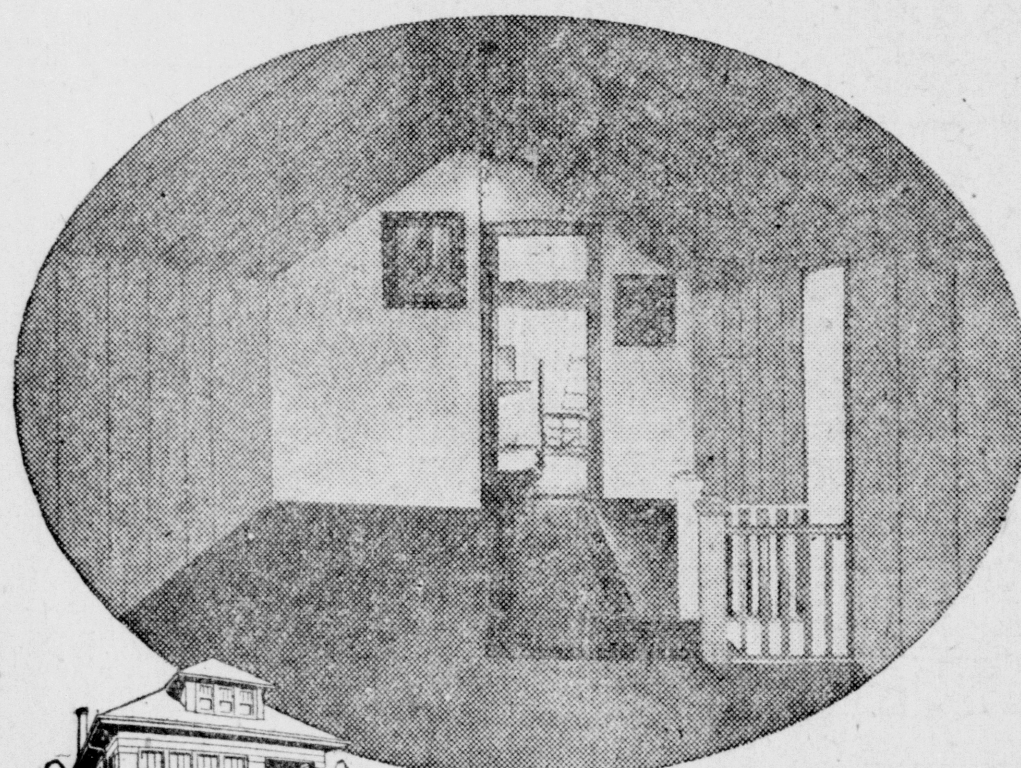

Ask your architect, contractor or lumber dealer to tell you more about this amazing lumber. All lumber dealers can supply Celotex. Also ask about the $200 gold bond now issued on all Celotex-insulated homes.

Meanwhile, send the coupon below for the free Celotex Building Book. It tells you how to use Celotex in old and new homes alike.

Anyone who can use a saw and hammer can finish off an attic room with Celotex. You simply nail the broad, light boards to the studing and rafters. Celotex not only shuts out winter-cold and summer-heat but converts your old attic into an attractive, livable room.

Heating costs cut 26% when the attic of this Chicago home was lined with Celotex

Actual records from the Peoples Gas Light & Coke Company show that the owner of this house at 5424 Trumbull Avenue, Chicago, saved 26% in fuel money by lining the attic with Celotex. The house was heated by a gas-fired boiler at a cost of $338.40 for one year before the Celotex was applied. The next season's gas consumption, after the Celotex was applied amounted to only $250.92... a saving of $87.48. (Allowances made to correct for the difference in the severity of the winters.)
